

What Your Venus Sign Says About How You Love and Attract Others

When it comes to matters of the heart, your Venus sign plays a significant role. In astrology, Venus governs love, beauty, pleasure, and attraction. While your Sun sign represents your core identity, Venus reveals how you express affection, what you value in relationships, and how you attract others.

Think of Venus as your “love language”—the way you show love and how you prefer to receive it in return. Understanding your Venus sign can help you deepen your relationships and improve your emotional well-being.

In this article, we'll break down what your Venus sign says about your romantic style and offer insights into how you attract others based on astrology.

What Is a Venus Sign?

Your Venus sign is determined by where the planet Venus was at the time of your birth. It may or may not be the same as your Sun sign. For example, you could be a Leo Sun with Venus in Cancer, which would give you a unique combination of boldness (Leo) and emotional depth (Cancer) in relationships.

While your Sun sign shapes your general personality, Venus focuses on your:

- Romantic desires
 - Relationship needs
 - Aesthetic preferences (what you find beautiful or attractive)
 - Ability to give and receive love
